Cobb ACT Scores Continue Upward Trend

District Seniors Outperform State and Nation for 12th Consecutive Year

Marietta, GA: Cobb's class of 2017 achieved record-high scores on the ACT on both the composite score and scores for each of the four subject-area sections. The district composite score average of 22.9 is nearly two full points higher than the national average and 1.5 points higher than the state average. The test, used for college admissions and merit-based scholarships, is scored on a scale of 1 to 36.

Superintendent Chris Ragsdale praised the efforts behind the results: "Once again, Cobb graduates exceeded their peers across the state and the nation while also surpassing Cobb scores from the previous year. These scores are just one indication of the quality of public education in the Cobb County School District and underscore our mission of One Team, One Goal: Student Success. The credit for the results goes to our hard-working students and dedicated teachers and administrators."

Over 54% of the district's more than 7,800 graduating seniors took the ACT during their high school years. Across the district, a perfect composite score was earned by 10 students. Those students were from Campbell (2), Kennesaw Mountain (1), Lassiter (1), Walton (5) and Wheeler (1).

Walton High School had the highest average composite score at 27.0, a full six points higher than the nation and more than five points higher than the state. Walton principal Judith McNeill is “excited that our students did so well” and attributes that success to “the community’s support” and that the “students want to exceed and push themselves.” She also credited “a fantastic faculty that works to support the students” noting “it all comes together to help make students successful on the ACT.”

Wheeler High School saw the largest gain over the previous year with an composite score average of 25.1, a full point higher than in 2016. Wheeler’s principal, Peter Giles, believes two initiatives the school has undertaken led to the improved results. The school began administering the pre-ACT to all freshman a few years ago. “This gives students exposure to the format of the ACT,” Giles notes, “while showing students that they are not limited to the SAT.” He further explains that, “parents are excited that students are given an opportunity to see if it is best for them to focus on the ACT or the SAT.” He too praised teachers who incorporate test prep into daily lessons and are, “committed to adding rigor to the curriculum to urge students to push beyond level one questions or just grasping the concepts presented.”
